A GOLDEN WEDDING

On the evening of August 19, in the Queenstown district, an event of events was celebrated when friends, relatives and neighbors from far and near gathered together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brown to congratulate them on the 51st recurrence of their wedding anniversary—and incidentally to celebrate in typical Western style.

It was on August 19, in the year 1868, at the home of the bride's father, in Milltown, Arbuthnot, Kincardineshire, Scotland, that Susan Aymer was united in marriage to Wm. Brown by the Rev. R. Spence.

After spending the first few years of married life in the home-country the lure of colonial life painted in the picturesque Capt. Lawson style influenced them to bid farewell to Scotland's shore and to embark for Canada in the year 1889. Their destination was definitely settled before they set sail, and their passage was booked clear through to Gleichen (Queenstown), Alberta.

On their voyage to their new home they met two other settlers journeying to the same destination, and with these they came and formed the "advance guard" of white settlement here. Most assuredly this countryside was far from picturesque, productive or comfortable for residence thirty years ago, and of the trio of "originals" Mr. Brown and his family were the only ones possessed of the true pioneer spirit and they alone "stuck with it". Through the dangers of Indian hostility, through the trials of hard years, and through the many discomforts incidental to pioneer life on the prairie they remained at their post faithfully struggling against inclement nature and an adverse environment.

Those were the days when settlers were few and far between—days when white men were rare and white women still more rare; days when the homeward trail from Gleichen led almost as directly as one cared to make it; days when riders and folks far from home appreciated a friendly roof and an open door-way—days when the "Arbuthnot Ranch" hospitality caused the name to be known far and wide. The legend and romance that lies behind the christening of "Slick-up Lake" down south testifies eloquently to the fact that the music and general good times always to be enjoyed at Mr. Brown's home made that place a veritable oasis in the Western wilderness.

When the land was thrown open for homsteading and the original grazing grounds were becoming smaller and smaller—days when the cattle owners looked with a none too friendly eye on the incoming rush of "small land holders", who fenced and fenced the prairie land—the "home of the Browns" became naturally the centre of the fast multiplying settlement—a glowing tribute to the hospitality and magnaminity that was there to be enjoyed. Sympathy in distress, help in failure, encouragement in disappointment always radiated from this centre for the welfare of all, and when the nights were long and the time hung heavy, the music, the dance and the general good time there available found a welcome boon to the prairie-dweller.

Since their reputation in the neighborhood was so well grounded on the rock of friendliness it is no small wonder that something over 200 persons rallied once again to the cry, "Let's go over to Brown's". According to the dictates of conventionality last year should have been the "year of jubilee", but loyalty to Empire, sympathy with the boys "over there", and the non-arrival of the family's overseas representative (Austin) led the members of the family to postpone the event for a year. This postponement dampened not the ardor of the celebrants or the sincerity of their wishes.

Although the event was a complete surprise to both Mr. and Mrs. Brown they stood their ground well and acted nobly their part of host and hostess, receiving the visitors to their home in person. The evening was was perfect, cool, calm, refreshing, and the anniversary supper was served on a long tables beneath the trees west of the house. At the first table the bride and groom of 51 years standing occupied the place of honor with Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill at their right and Mr. and Mrs. Glossop at their left and with the members of their family (all of whom but two were present) directly facing them. Mrs. Brown carried a bouquet of carnations, tied with brides ribbon and Mr. Brown wore a lapel bouquet of the same flower.

Throughout the entire banquet a spirit of jovialty and good-will prevailed and never once did the conversation lag or the merry jesting cease.

At the close of the meal Mrs. Brown inserted the knife into the four-story bride's cake, which was beautifully iced and decorated with colden colored leaves, and during the cutting of the cake a toast was proposed and drunk to the health of of the couple in whose honor the guests had assembled. Mr. Brown responded in a very fitting manner, voicing surprise, appreciation and pleasure. Very briefly he outlined the inconveniences of the early days and expressed his delight in having been able to serve and encourage later settlers. Various members of the gathering then spoke words of appreciation and good-will in honor of the pioneers, and as the banqueters rose Mr. Gordon Stewart sang, "John Anderson, my Jo". All the guests then assembled in front of the house to witness the event of the evening—the presentation of two beautiful pieces of furniture. Mrs. Bishop spoke feelingly and appreciatively on behalf of the sons and daughters in presenting their parents with a beautiful fumed oak, bevel-mirrored buffet and Messrs. Gordon Stewart and Willard Darston expressed sincere appreciation for what Arbuthnot ranch had stood for amid the trials and discomforts of homesteading life in presenting Mr. and Mrs. Brown, on behalf of the neighbors east and west, with a fully furnished secretary-desk and bookcase combined, in addition to two golden fountain pens inscribed with the initials of the receipients, and a fumed oak ink-stand, ornamented with a silver shield engraved and dated. In response Mr. Brown again spoke and thanking one and all for their kindly thoughtfulness gave them the freedom of house and grounds.

Every emergency had been prepared for by the thoughtful members of the committee and two tables were served for the younger members of the gathering and then the music commenced and the crowd adjourned to the spacious dancing floor which had previously been put in readiness. Messrs. G. Johuk and Alex McIntyre supplied the music and the younger people entered into the enjoyment of an open air dance with the older folk standing by very much enjoying music, applauding and watching the dancing couples. On into the "wee sma' hours" the young people continued to enjoy themselves and, on parting, those who had tasted of the Brown hospitality of by-gone days admitted it was an evening, indeed, "such as used to was only morest."

The entire celebration but feebly expressed the high estimation in which these, our oldest local residents, are held by one and all and the whole neighborhood unites in hearty congratulations and in the sincere wish that our friends may be spared in their life of good-fellowship to enjoy many happy returns of the anniversary of their wedding.

FIRST WHEAT GRADES NO. 1 NORTHERN

Fair Brought Gleichen Very Best Kind of Advertising Calgary Dailies Gave Great Boosts

Mr. Hollinberg brought in the first load of wheat this season last Wednesday and Mr. McMullen of the Alberta Pacific elevator bought it for No. 1 Northern. A very good start indeed.

Gleichen got a lot of the very best kind of advertising out of the exhibition this year. Undoubtedly the farmers received the most benefit but what is their advantage is also an advantage to the entire district. The Calgary Herald and Albertan gave column after column of prominence, telling of the success of our fair and a number of weekly newspapers also materially aided in making known that in a year of drouth and hail Gleichen was able to put on a successful fair and excellent sports. Travel where one will and mention Gleichen and you will at once hear people say Gleichen must have a wonderful district to put on a successful fair a year like this. And it helps when one can truthfully return that the crops are yielding much better than anticipated and we have feed for sale.

We must be grateful to these papers for devoting so much space to our fair for it not only helps the entire district but it enhances the value of each farmer's land.

In order to supply the demand for extra copies of the prize list we publish it this week on pages 4 and 5.

8 Out of 9 Pupils Pass the Entrance

The public schools opened Tuesday morning and the attendance at the Gleichen school is greater than ever and new comers will find it difficult to find accommodation.

Our school is continuing to hold its high reputation, of which the teaching staff and town may well feel proud. Eight out of nine Gleichen pupils who wrote for the entrance examination were successful. Those who passed were:

Mildred Bellinger,
Lionel Brereton,
Bertie James,
Walter McKay,
Charlie Plante,
Frankie Plante,
Bella Wilson,
Willie Taylor.

"The Heart of Humanity" Here Next Saturday, September 6th.

Since the event of the motion picture, as the most important factor in the entertainment of the world, three great productions have held the spot-light as being the greatest in the history of the film industry. These were "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and "Hearts of the World," and until the entry into the field of "The Heart of Humanity," they held undisputed sway as the leaders of the best the motion picture art could produce but with production of "The Heart of Humanity," these three world famous plays will be forced to accept a secondary position as the new feature has been pronounced by experts as being the greatest and most magnificent work ever presented to the public.

"The Heart of Humanity" is the first picture of Canada as she really is. While it is not essentially a war picture it will stand as an everlasting monument to the heroes of the Dominion, consecrating their sufferings and sacrifices so that all future generations can see and know what Canada has done for the freedom of the world.

The theme of the story is based on "the love that passes all understanding" having as its deepest motive the great mother love of the world. In the production of "The Heart of Humanity" Allen Holubar, the gifted director, surrounded his play with a vastness worthy of a Griffith, the artistry of a Capellani, the forceful intensity of an Ince.

This magnificent production will be presented for one night at the Opera House, Gleichen, Sat. Sept. 6th.

STANDARD

The dance given in the Nordquist hall a short time ago, for the purpose of raising money, to assist in erecting a Memorial Hall at Chancellor, was very well attended, considering the busy season. The amount realized was in the neighborhood of $90. The committee wishes to thank all who assisted in making the occasion a success.

J. B. Deschamp and wife made a business trip to Calgary one day last week.

Wives and Mothers Need Not Have Sore Backaches

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weeks, aching women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing-down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural, but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia and other symptoms of Kidney complaint cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver, to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known.

Because of their mild, soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages. 25c per box at all dealers. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dave's duties were simple enough. He had to drive a wagon to a certain yard, where a very superior young man, with a collar, would express surprise that he had been so long, and tell him to back in and unload a number so-and-so. It appeared to be always a matter of great distress to this young man that Dave did not know which chute to back under until he was told. Having backed into position, a door was opened. There was a chute that the coal in the load should then run into the wagon box, but, as Dave at once discovered, this was merely a fiction. Aside from a few accommodating lumps near the top the coal had to be shovelled. When the box was judged to be full the wagon was driven on to the scales. If the load were too heavy some of it had to be thrown off, while the young man with the collar passed remarks appropriate to the occasion. If the load were too light less distress was experienced. Then Dave had to drive to an address that was given him, shovel the coal down a chute located in the most inaccessible position the premises afforded, and return to the coal yard, where the young man with the collar would facetiously inquire whether Mrs. Blank had invited him in to afternoon tea, or if he had been waiting for a change in the weather.

Conditions in the boarding-house had the value of distracting Dave's attention from the unpleasantness of his work. Mrs. Metford, being provided by her numerous offspring, embittered by the regular recurrence of her contributions to the state, and disheartened by drudgery and toil, work, had long ago ceased to place any store on personal appearance or even cleanliness. As Dave watched her slovenly shuffle to and from the kitchen, preceded and pursued by young Metfords in all degrees of childish innocence, his mind flew back to dim recollections of his own mother and the quiet, noiseless order of their home. Even in the latter days, when he and his father had been anything but model housekeepers, they had never known such squalor as this.

Metford's attitude toward his wife fluctuated from course humor to brutality, but there was left in the woman no spark of spirit to resist. With neither tongue nor eye did she make any response, and her shuffings back and forth were neither hastened nor delayed by the passage of her lord. Her bearing was that of one who has suffered until the senses are numb, who has drunk the last dregs of bitterness, for whom no possible change of condition can be worse. Her indifference was tragic.

The sleeping accommodations had the virtue of simplicity. The Metford tribe was housed in a lean-to which supported one wall of the kitchen, and the eight boarders slept upstairs over the main part of the house. The room was not large, but it had four corners, and in each corner stood a cheap iron bed with baggy springs and musty mattress. The ceiling, none too high at any part, sloped at the walls almost to the edges of the beds. One table and a wash basin had to serve for the eight lodgers; those who were impatient for their turn might omit their ablutions altogether or perform them in the horse-trough at the barn.

All Metford's employees, with the exception of Dave, were foreigners, more or less inconversant with the English language. Somewhat to his surprise, they maintained an attitude of superiority toward him, carrying on their conversations in a strange tongue, and allowing little gaps in their common life. Dave's spirit, which had always been accustomed to receive and be received on a basis of absolute equality, rebelled violently against the intangible wall of exclusion which his fellow workers built about themselves, and as they had shown no desire for him to begin the schooling for which he had left the ranch. But he developed a sudden determination to make the start; he was tired in the evening, and he found it much more to his liking to stroll down town, smoke cigarettes on the street corners, or engage in an occasional game of pool. In this way the weeks went by, and when his month with Metford was up he had neglected to find any other position, so he continued where he was. He was being gradually and unconsciously submerged in an inertia which, however much it might hate its present surroundings, had not the spirit to seek a more favorable environment.

So the fall and winter drifted along; Dave had made few acquaintances and no friends, if we except Conward, whom he frequently met at the pool rooms, and for whom he had developed a sort of attachment. His underlying sense of dignity had been lulled by closer acquaintanceship; Conward's mild manner and quiet, seductive voice invited friendship, and it became a settled affair for the two to play for small stakes, which Dave won as often as he lost.

One Saturday evening as Dave was on the way to their accustomed resort he fell in with Conward on the street. "Hello, old man," said Conward, cheerfully, "I was just looking for you. Got two tickets for the show tonight. Some swell dames in the chorus. Come along. There'll be doings."

"There were two theatres in the town, one of which played to the better class residents. In it anything of a risque nature had to be suggested with certain trimmings which allowed it to be classified as "art," but in the other house no such restrictions existed. It was to this house that Conward led. Dave had been there before, in the cheap upper gallery, but Conward's tickets admitted to the best seats in the house. Dave had adopted town ways to the point where he changed his clothes and put on a white collar Saturday evening, and he found himself amid the gay rustle and perfumes of the orchestra floor with a very pleasant sense of being somebody among somebodies. The orchestra played a swinging air, to which his foot kept tap, and presently the curtain went up and the show was on with a rush of girls and color.

It was an entirely new experience. From the upper gallery the actors and actresses always seemed more or less impersonal and abstract, but here they were living, palpitating human beings, almost within touch reach, certainly within eye reach, as Dave presently discovered. There was a trooping of girls about the stage, with singing and giggling and laughter and sweet, clear voices; then a sudden change of formation and a line of girls right across between the footlights, where they tripped merrily through motions of mingled grace and acrobatics. Dave found himself regarding the young woman immediately before him; all in white she was, with some scintillating material that sparkled in the glare of the spotlight; then suddenly she was in orange, and pink, and purple, and mauve, and back again in white. And although she performed the various steps with a subtlety which a dun, there was in her dress and manner a modesty which fascinated the boy with a subtlety which a more reckless appearance would have at once defeated.

And then Dave looked in her face. It was a pretty face, among the pretty its grease-paint, and it smiled right into his eyes. His heart thumped between his shoulders as though it would drive all the air from his lungs. She smiled at him—for him! Now they were away again; there were gyrations about the stage, he almost lost her in the maze; a young man in fine clothes rushed in, and was apparently being mobbed by the girls, and said some lines in a rapid voice which Dave's ear had not been trained to catch; and then he danced about with one of them—with the very one—with his one! My, how nimble she was! He wondered if she knew the young man very well. They seemed very friendly. But he supposed she had to do that anyway; it was part of her job; it was all in the play. Certainly the young man was very clever, but he didn't like his looks. Certainly he could dance very well, but somehow his style appeared different to the tune of a six-shooter," Dave said to himself, and then flatly called it a little. That was silly. The young man had said to do this, too. Still it looked like a very good job. It looked like a very much better job than shovelling coal for Metford.

Then there was a sudden breakaway in the dance, and the girl disappeared behind a forest, and the bombshell of the young man recommenced. Dave supposed she had gone to rest; dancing like that must be hard on the wind. He found little to admire in the show herself. Then she could see—

But there was a whirr from the ground, and the girl re-appeared, this time all in red. She was nearly so much in red as she had previously been in white. My, what a quick change she had made! And how her skirt stood out like a rim when she whirled herself! And the young man left all the rest and went to dance with her alone. Dave was not altogether pleased with that turn of events. But presently the dance broke up, and they were flung again into the interval of stage-waste. And she was, all in red—no, not all in red, but certainly not in any other colors—she left him. And then she looked down and smiled again at him. And he smiled back. And then he looked at Conward and saw him smiling, too. And he felt a very distressing uncertainty, which brought the color slowly to his face. He resolved to say nothing, but Conward, during the variations of time, convinced him that the smiles had been for Conward, not for him. And then he lost interest in the play.

New Zeppelin Airship N-4

Builders Have Discarded Cigar-Shape and Adopted a Conical Outlined Exterior

Berlin.—A new Zeppelin airship, on its maiden trip from Friedrichshaven to Berlin, carried the 700 kilometres (about 435 miles) in a little more than six hours. The aircraft, which is named Sachsen, attained a maximum speed of 120 kilometres (a little more than 74½ miles) an hour.

The builders of the new type of metal airship have left the familiar cigar-shape of the old Zeppelins and adopted a conical outlined exterior. The gondola nacelle is 120 metres long and accommodates 30 passengers. It is equipped with wireless and has a spacious passenger cabin. The passengers are able to obtain hot and cold running water. The aircraft is to go into a daily service. Twenty-one passengers, among them three women, made the initial trip in the airship. The Bodenzee was built since the armistice was signed.

German Guilt Committee Personnel

Berlin.—The German National Assembly's committee to investigate the question of responsibility has been named. Herr Petersen, a Democrat, was made president of the committee, and Dr. Peter Spahm, a Centrist and Dr. Quessel, a Socialist are vice-president. The sessions of the war guilt committee will be public, it was announced.

The assembly also appointed a new foreign affairs committee with Philip Scheidemann as president. The committee will be composed of five Social Democrats, three Centrists, three Democrats, two German Nationals and one member of the People's party.

Asquith to Seek Election

London.—Herbert H. Asquith, former Prime Minister, is reported as making arrangements to re-enter active politics.

The Edinburgh Evening News declares that Mr. Asquith probably will take the earliest opportunity to seek candidature for the House of Commons.

A previous report from Berlin said the authorities claimed to have under arrest or detention all the persons engaged in the conspiracy when the airplanes which were to carry the booty into Switzerland were intercepted near Nuremburg, Bavaria.

Afghan Attitude Towards Terms

Show Disposition to Execute Peace Terms Honorably

London, England.—Although disappointed at the terms granted them, the Afghans show a disposition to make every effort to execute the peace terms honorably, and as the Ameer's bid for popularity, by declaring war on Great Britain, has completely failed, and the hopes of obtaining assistance from the Russian Bolshevicki have not been realized, it is considered that he will now probably return to his policy of friendship with Great Britain which has kept peace on the Indian frontier for the last 35 years.

Canada's Air Record

30 Per Cent. of All the Pilots in the British Air Service Came From the Dominion

Sir Gilbert Parker, a distinguished Canadian long resident in England, contributes an informing article to the Fortnightly Review for July on the British Air Service. In it he embodies highly interesting facts with regard to Canada's share in that service. "It is wonderful," he writes, "to think that we who had a very small aeroplane service mastered the art and produced fighting machines which beat the Germans at every turn; and I am glad to know that over thirty per cent. of all the pilots in the British Air Service came from the Dominion of Canada; while the name of Lieut.-Col. Bishop, V.C., a Canadian, ranks among the greatest air pilots and adds honor to the splendid achievements of our air forces in the field."

Continuing, he sets forth the comparative contributions of the various overseas members of the British Commonwealth to the Royal Air Forces. "Australia contributed 250 pilots and 1,000 trained observers, New Zealand the big achievement remains with Canada. Over 8,000 Canadians have served as officers in our flying services, and of the number mentioned there were nearly 2,500 in the Royal Air Force. From South Africa came 2,000 men to serve in England or Egypt as probationary flight officers and about 3,000 were commissioned in the flying service in France, Egypt, Palestine and Africa. This was a wonderful record."

With regard to the general achievements of the Imperial Air Fleet Committee, he writes: "The people of the empire owe a debt of gratitude to the enthusiasts who, either before or during the war, have interested us in this practical and patriotic work, and opened the doors to men like Major Mannock, who brought down 73 enemy machines; Major Bishop, 72, and Captains Ball and McCudden some 50 each."

It will, says the Halifax Chronicle in commenting on these figures, always be gratifying to Canadians to recall that their representative, Lieut.-Col. W. A. Bishop, has won made the second highest score, only 1 less than the highest, but made it in such a comparatively short time. Had he been here in Canada at the time, no knowing how much higher a record he might have made. The pity is that the experience and skill of these men who won fame for their country are not being used to develop a flight service in Canada.

Greatest Gaming City in Europe

Gambling in Berlin was never more prevalent than it is today. Berlin is the greatest gaming city in Europe. Gaming clubs shoot up in all parts of the city like mushrooms in a meadowland. There are as many as fifty in the western part of the city alone, in the neighborhood of Durfurstendamm, and the newspapers are publishing advertisements connected with gambling. Croupiers are offered situations, roulette tables are offered for sale, and not the slightest secrecy is observed with regard to this demoralizing practice. The largest and most elegant club is in Uhlenbeck Linden. Some 500 persons gamble there every day.

Ukrainians Desire to Learn English

Fernie, B.C.—Among the foreign workers of Canada the Ukrainians are showing the greatest desire to master the English language, and in many mining camps have little group schools. This is particularly true in regard to the so-called "revolutionary" section. The others are holding more strongly to the older traditions, and their religious leaders supply them with literature in their own language, and uphold the keeping of a distinct national feeling.

"Yes, in teaching stenography, we are strong on accuracy."

"How are you on speed?"

"Well, the last girl we graduated married her employer in three weeks."—Judge.

Woman's Future In Industrialism

Advocates Equal Rate of Pay for Both Sexes

London.—Speaking at Whitefield's Tabernacle on "The Future of Women in Industry," Miss Maude Royden said that while one of the sore points of the future will be the cheap labor of other races, one of the sorest points at present was the cheap labor of women. Dealing with the restoration after the War of Trades Bill, she said that it would mean that 792,000 women would be turned out of their work, chiefly in the engineering trade. Of these, 450,000 had taken the places of men, but the rest had come in through the expansion of industry, and especially of the aircraft industry, which had been largely created by the work of women. If these women were forbidden to work it would be because men feared their competition.

An equal rate of pay for both sexes, Miss Royden maintained, should be enforced by legislation to remove the feeling of injustice that would be created if women were debarred from work they could do. It would be said that that would not only drive women out effectively, but would also be unjust to the man, who was usually married, while the woman was single. As to the first objection, she believed in the sorting of men and women into the work for which they were best suited. She urged that the married woman should have a position of equal dignity and independence with the man in the labor market.

For Better Roads

Saskatchewan Government Has Entered Into 500 Contracts With Rural Municipalities

Within the last three months the highways department of the government of Saskatchewan has organized and put in hand road and bridge construction totalling in value the sum of $662,000. The government has entered into 500 contracts with rural municipalities, valued at $230,000, for the construction of new roads and the improvement of existing roads, the ways, which form a part of the approved highways system being adopted by the provincial government in co-operation with the various rural municipalities. This system is the result of the efforts on the part of the government and the municipal councils to review the main roads in each municipality each year for the last six years. Last year it was reckoned that there would be enough finally select and approve of such roads as would form a main highway system connecting the market centres. All the contracts let this year is being done on that basis.

Jellicoe In New Zealand

London.—In the course of an address given at a ministerial luncheon in his honor at Wellington, New Zealand, Admiral Lord Jellicoe said that in the early stages of the war the British Admiralty was deficient in many naval necessaries, but the Dominion would profit by the lesson to be learned, he said, was to be prepared, and he therefore hoped the schemes would be evolved whereby the Dominion would not be dependent almost entirely for their security on the British Navy.

Investigate Racing Situation

Ottawa.—The appointment of Dr. Rutherford to investigate the racing situation is favorably regarded by the racing interests, who look to him for what they regard as a square deal. The commissioner's report will be the basis of permanent legislation in the next session of parliament, and the enquiry implements a promise made by Sir Thomas White last session. It is predicted that evils will not come back, but with limitation of tracks and a divvying up of receipts by the government.

Mutual

Mr. George murmured the sweet thing, reproachfully, "what would papa say if he knew that you were proposing to me?"

"He has discovered it already, dearest," admitted her fiance sadly.

"Mercy! What did he say?"

"He said, 'Well, George, I don't mind if I do!'"

Estimates N.D. Crop

Fargo, N.D.—Dr. B. Trowbridge, of North Dakota Experimental Station, has stated that the state's wheat crop this fall will total 50,000,000 bushels.

German Sugar Production

Berlin, Germany.—The German sugar production for 1919 shows a decrease of nearly 2,000,000 double centners, as compared with 1918.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 7

PARABLES OF THE KINGDOM OF HEAVEN

I. The Parable of the Mustard Seed (v. 31, 32).

Three things mainly occupy our attention in this parable.

1. Its unimportant beginning. It begins as the least of all seeds and grows to be the greatest among herbs. The king was of ordinary parentage and humble circumstances. He selected unlettered fishermen as his royal advisers. The prophet had said concerning him that he would be "despised," "rejected," "forsaken," "cut off" and as "having nothing."

2. Its vigorous growth. From these small beginnings Christ's influence has gone forth so that there is no power or influence equal in greatness to that of Christendom.

3. Its lodging capacity.

The birds which find lodgment in the tree do not represent the children of men who find safety and salvation in the church. The birds constitute no part of the tree, while the believer becomes a part of the tree, adding to its strength and fruitfulness. The birds are something foreign to the tree, and are burdensome and injurious to it. They come to and shelter in a vain quest of the tender buds, or to prey upon the more ripened fruit. The effect of their lodging in the tree is evil and blighting. In this interpretation (v. 19) he said that the fowls represent the wicked ones. He who would make the lodgers here anything else makes Christ's interpretation a farce. Here the Greek word is used in both cases, and the circumstances are the same.

II. The Parable of the Leavened Meal (v. 33).

Three things mainly occupy our attention here: the meal, the woman, and the leaven.

1. The meal. Meal has a wholesome and nutritious effect. It was used in one of the sweet-savor offerings which was typical of Christ (Lev. 2:1-3 R. V.); it was food for the priests (Lev. 6:15-17 R. V.); Abraham had Sarah to knead a cake out of three measures of meal when the angelic messengers of the Lord (Gen. 18:6); Solomon's royal table was provided with meal (1 Kings 4:22); Elijah was fed upon a cake made of meal (II. Kings 4:41); Elisha used meal as an antidote for the poison of death from the pot (II. Kings 4:38-41).

2. The woman. In scripture we find that the church being taught by woman (Rev. 2:20). Anything with doctrine is forbidden to women (I. Tim. 2:12). In I. Tim. 4:13; II. Tim. 3:16 and II. Peter 2:1-3, we find that the apostasy will be brought in through false teaching within the ranks of God's people. The meaning, then, of the parable is that false doctrine, the mean given for the nourishment of the children of the kingdom (I. Peter 2:2, I. Tim. 4:6), will be officially represented by false doctrine. Woman is a type of the church in some sense. The church has always been the way false doctrine, and its corrupting effects are seen on every hand.

3. The leaven. In scripture leaven is invariably a type of evil. All the way through the Old Testament leaven is a continual and unvarying type of evil (Ex. 12:15; Lev. 2:11). It is inconceivable that Jesus should so materially change, without due notice and explanation, a word from an Old Testament book, which the Spirit of God had so unchangingly used for two thousand years. (2) Jesus himself makes leaven to denote sin (Matt. 16:6, 12; Mark 8:15). (3) Paul uses leaven in its usual biblical sense (I. Cor. 5:6-8; Gal. 5:8, 9). Further, this is the only interpretation that will harmonize with Christ's interpretation of he first two parables. Facts patent to all prove that the professed church today is feeding upon the leaven of formalism and tradition instead of the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth—the Word of God.

III. The Parable of the Hidden Treasure (v. 44).

IV. The Parable of the Merchantman Seeking Pearls (v. 45, 46).

Actors' Strike in New York

New York.—Two more theatres, the Cohan and Liberty, were forced to close last night by a walkout in stage hands and musicians, in sympathy with the striking Actors' Equity Association. This brings the total of New York's playhouses closed by the strike to 23, and leaves vaudeville houses almost supreme on Broadway. But three legitimate houses remain open, and two of these are not affiliated with the Producing Managers' Protective Association.

Market For Horses Wanted

New Dominion Minister of Agriculture Outlines Some of His Ideas

Calgary.—Dr. F. S. Tolmie, new Dominion minister of agriculture; Hon. William Stevens, minister of the interior; Hon. J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization, were the chief speakers at a noonday luncheon of the Calgary board of trade. Hon. Charles Stewart, premier of Alberta, was present also.

One of the chief points pressed by Dr. Tolmie in his address was that more attention should be given to mixed farming and the cattle industry. He emphasized the necessity of paying more attention to the British market and also that across the Pacific. He dwelt at some length on the subject of improving breeds of cattle, and announced that the federal department of agriculture was preparing to give prizes for steers at fat stock shows.

Dr. Tolmie also related how the market for high-bred dairy cattle, especially Holsteins from Canada, was becoming constantly wider across the seas.

The speaker referred to the importance of finding a market for light horses in Alberta. There was a shortage of heavy draft horses and cattle had been stolen by the Germans, but the instability of the government there made it impossible to extend credit. The Americans had shipped in some 200,000 head, and there was need of another 100,000. Canada also was a need of such horses in Siberia.

He extended his sympathy and promised all the assistance in his power to the farmers in the drought-stricken area of the west.

Hon. J. A. Calder recalled that he had gone to Regina as M.P. for Alberta in 1894, 1895 and 1896, and prophesied a great future for that section of the Dominion, in spite of the drought-stricken area. He had come now to personally investigate the alarming reports of the drouth. He had been travelling in the Saskatchewan drouth area and found the situation not so bad as reported; nevertheless, it must be met. Difficulties in the west had been overcome through the western spirit. We must endeavor, he said, to avoid a repetition of the situation. He thought something should be done right here were extensive areas in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan that could be irrigated. He was sure that was feasible, it must be done.

Referring to the big war debt of $1,950,000, he said that governments had got into the habit of spending during the war regardless of cost. This had got down to the individual citizen, but if we were to get over the hill we must avoid the extravagant ideas out of our heads. It was only by work and saving that we could get out. In his visit west, if there was one thing that had impressed him, it was the extravagant expenditure on every hand in the cities. A little more light on the cession of the natural resources, by the government and by individuals.

The railway policy of the country for the last few years had also loaded the country staggeringly. There was only one way to solve these questions and that was by living in as many people of the right class as it was possible to bring in.

Cyprus

Apparently at Last to Find Permanency of Ownership

The island of Cyprus, the third largest body of land in the Mediterranean Sea, after having been passed around among the nations from the earliest historical times to the present, is apparently at last to find what ought to be a permanency of ownership. A dispatch from London says that the British parliament is seriously considering the cession of the island to Greece and that a delegation from Athens is in England for the purpose of completing the negotiations. Cyprus belonged to Persia and Egypt; it was annexed by Alexander the Great to Greece; it has been subject to the rule of the Roman, Byzantine, Turkish and British empires.

Germans Still in Courland

Stockholm.—The German troops in Courland have not evacuated that country, according to reports from Helsingfors. On the contrary, they are preparing an offensive from there against the Bolshevik, and are bringing considerable bodies of Russian prisoners from Germany in order that they shall participate in the proposed attack.

Von Beulow On The War

Tells What He Knows About Who Started the Trouble

Berlin.—Prince Bernhard von Buelow, former German chancellor, has in a rather belated manner entered the list of those making reservations concerning the outbreak of war by writing a letter to the Fremdenblatt of Hamburg, regarding the statement made by Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, chancellor in 1914, that the declaration of war was inevitable. Prince von Buelow sketched his long years as chancellor, tells how he was unable to avoid war and admits that peace was desired by Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, who, he says, however, "lacked political art."

"During the grave weeks before the war," writes Prince von Buelow, "serious diplomatic and political mistakes were made by Germany's political leaders which were unjustly ascribed to the people's responsibility."

Bolshevik Troops Murder Persians

London. — Details have reached here of the murder by Bolshevik of Ibadullabeg, the Persian consular agent at Armavir, Armenia, together with 310 Persian subjects, of whom 270 were Mohammedans and forty Christians.

When the volunteer army evacuated Armavir, July 27, according to the reports, the Bolshevik called Ibadullabeg out, shot him down and mutilated his body with swords and bayonets. The Bolshevik then herded together all the Persians who had taken shelter under the protection of the Persian flag, and shot them en masse with machine-guns and buried them, partly in the consular graveyard and partly in a common pit.

Snow in New York State

Agreements Reached With The U.S.A.

Britain's Bill for Carrying Troops to Be Paid

Washington.—For each man transported overseas in British ships the United States government will pay Great Britain $81.75, under an agreement reached between Brigadier-General Hines, director of transportation in the War Department, and Lord Reading, representing the British government.

Secretary Baker, it was learned, has approved the agreement, which fixes a price a little more than half that tentatively put forward by the British at the beginning of the negotiations. The total cost of the British tonnage used in transportation of troops is estimated at $83,757,250, the number of men carried having been 1,207,200. Similar negotiations are in progress with the French and other governments.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

Provinces Get Share

Money Voted for Highway Construction to Be Divided

Ottawa.—A conference on the question of highway development was opened here in the office of J. A. Campbell, head of the highways branch of the department of railways.

The problem under discussion relates to the spending of the $20,000,000 voted for highway construction by the Dominion parliament last session. Under the provisions of the legislation adopted $80,000 is to be paid to each of the provinces in a lump sum, and the subsequent assistance will be on the basis of population.

Representatives of provincial highways departments present at the conference included A. McGillivray, of Manitoba; Mr. McLean, of the Ontario Highway Department, and Mr. Carpenter, of the Saskatchewan Highway Department.

Humor of the Country

As the last train was about to go out, an old farmer rushed into an already overcrowded compartment. It so happened that an occupant — a dandified young man—was one of his customers. By the way of pleasantry, the dude inquired what he had got in a small box under his arm.

"Oh," said the farmer, "a box of chalk!"

"I see," the young man replied, with an air of wisdom on his countenance, and, looking round at his fellow passengers — "Chalk for the milk, eh?"

"Not exactly," drawled the old chap, slowly; "but I've done so much chalking up for milk at your house that I've had to buy another box!"

Britain To Resume Export Trade Soon

Daily Mail Writer Does Not Agree With Claim Conditions in Favor of U.S.

London.—A careful survey of the trade situation does not confirm the view prevalent that the trend of events is all in favor of United States export trade, according to the writer of a special article to which the Daily Mail gives much prominence, and concerning which it says editorially that the great rush of imports into Great Britain seems to be ceasing and that exportation on a considerable scale is about to begin.

The writer of the special article says the British Government chose Sept. 1 for the withdrawal of import restrictions, to accord with the arrival in this country of an unprecedented stream of shipping which has been loading foodstuffs in Australasia. German vessels, however, have arrived and the ocean route is thronged with others, so that henceforth the country will not be dependent on trans-Atlantic sources for food. The gathering of the home harvest, he adds, aids the situation.

As regards British export prospects, the writer asserts it is well known in commercial circles that considerable stock of textiles, cutlery and other goods are available for export.

"America has been pouring goods into Europe," says the writer, "but the rate of exchange is now against American importers, who with heavy committments are pleased at the outlook for their trade and are not overjoyed by the removal of the British restrictions. Many alert American business men have advised manufacturers to cease flooding the British market."

Alberta Mines About Normal

Thirty-one of the Leading Mines Are in Operation

Ottawa.—The number of mines in District 18, embracing the district in the vicinity of Fernie, B.C., and Edmonton, Alta., which have resumed work, is gradually increasing. The latest report received by the Minister of Labor is to the effect that 31 of the leading mines, representing 60 per cent. of the total output, are in operation.

At the same time officials of the United Mine Workers' Association are experiencing considerable opposition from advocates of the One Big Union idea. According to reports, however, the opposition seems to be decreasing.

Chemists Work On Cheaper Food

Substitutes Are Being Found for Articles Which Are Now Out of Average Man's Reach

New York.—New means of obtaining foodstuffs, and satisfactory methods of converting familiar substances to a palatable and cheaper diet, have recently been discovered, according to a bulletin issued by the American Chemical Society, which holds its annual meeting soon in Philadelphia.

Sprouted beans, peas and grains are excellent substitutes for fruits and vegetables, it explains, when the latter are rapidly soaring in price. The Chinese discovered the value of sprouted legumes years ago, and used them in making savory stews by the addition of a little meat.

By converting plants formerly used as brewerys and munition factories into food factories, modern industrial chemistry is finding many new ways of making food palatable. Milk factories reduce the product to more portable forms, and cause a saving of freight by changing it to powders, dried milks, malted, condensed and evaporated brands. There is great food value in buttermilk, according to Dr. William Grelck, of St. Paul, Minnesota, a member of the society. A method has been found for condensing buttermilk into a semi-solid smooth substance of the consistency of ice cream. When used in bread making, it produces a far more substantial loaf than that usually sold in the shops, with an agreeable milk flavor. The sugar of milk in the buttermilk makes a uniform brown crust at low baking temperature.

To the research chemist must be credited such new foods as oleomargarine, glucose and hydrogenated fats, which include lard substitutes or cooking compounds, according to the statement. Spoilage of many foods is also avoided to a large extent through their efforts. Experiments now being carried on to obtain edible oils from the tomato seed and even from the cockle burr indicate the widespread efforts of the chemist today to conserve on every hand.

France's Forests To Be Restored Quickly

Wherever There Was a Forest Before the War There Is to Be a New Forest

Now France is confronted with the problem of restoration. And she is going about the work in the characteristic systematic French manner. When it was a question of a war to be won the French gave their lives and fortunes without question and without repining. Now that the war has been won they are displaying the same spirit in the work of repairing war's ravages. Wherever there was a forest before the war there is to be a new forest. The French may be mercurial and effervescent, but when it comes to a matter of the motherland's welfare there is no more practical people on the surface of the earth. From French frugality and from French foresight America may well learn a lesson. Not only to repair the damages of war, but also to compensate for the inroads of American industry, America should have an eye to the future. Where forests have disappeared new forests should be planted and reared under the eye of the government. Conservation is coming to be an accepted gospel, but at present restoration may be even more important than conservation.—Cleveland Plain-Dealer.

Thrilling Experience Of Police Inspector

Walked and Swam Eight Miles in Arctic Waters to Land

Regina.—Inspector Phillips, of the R.N.W.M.P., Herschell Island detachment, arrived in the city recently after an absence of two years, and has left on leave for a short holiday at his home in Belleville, Ontario.

The inspector is one of three men who went through an experience last summer, from which, state police authorities, only one man comes out alive in a thousand. This was when the boat he was piloting was wrecked in the ice floes off Herschell Island. On this particular occasion Inspector Phillips, accompanied by Sergeant Doak and Constable Cornelius, were returning from a patrol. The sea became rough and the ice floes pounded their boat, sending it to the bottom. The three officers jumped to the ice and then began an eight mile trip, during which they suffered untold hardships, finally reaching the depot in an exhausted condition and for weeks lay between life and death. Their rugged constitutions stood them well and all three recovered. During their journey of eight miles over the ice they had to swim 24 open leads in the ice, and that with their clothes on in icy cold water.

The first report of this experience was made to Commissioner Perry, C.M.G., by Inspector Phillips, who stated that Sergeant Doak and Constable Cornelius were none the worse for their swim in the Arctic sea.

Alleged Betrayer Of Edith Cavell

Georges Gaston Quien Will Appear Before Sixth Court-Martial of Paris

Paris. — Georges Gaston Quien, charged with having intercourse with the enemy, and alleged betrayer of Edith Cavell, will appear before the sixth court-martial of Paris. The prosecution claims that it will prove that after obtaining funds and help from the English nurse, Quien went to Holland and returned to Brussels as a German agent and betrayed her to the Germans.

The defence will ask for an indefinite postponement until such time "as the kaiser and other parties primarily responsible for the death of Miss Cavell are brought before an international tribunal."

Monument In A School Yard

A Figure of Young Infantryman Done in Fine Granite

Looking out over grain fields and meadow in one of the best agricultural districts of Huron County, Ontario, is a figure of a young infantryman, done in fine granite. The figure surmounts a base, also of stone, and altogether it is a highly creditable art work. Inscribed on the base of the monument are the names of the young farmers of the district, who gave their lives in the nation's defense in the great war, and also those who enlisted, and those who were wounded. What makes the monument the more striking is the fact that it stands in the corner of a school yard. The three young men whose lives were sacrificed in the war were once scholars in the little white brick schoolhouse. They were the sons of farmers in the neighborhood. They played and studied and worked by turns. Their schoolmates, many of them, are still there. The homes from which they went, and in which there is a vacant chair, are representative homes.—London Free Press.

Britain Will Establish Fair Prices

Practical Plan to Defeat Speculating Exporters in Necessities

London.—The board of trade, in explaining the profiteering law, indicates that there will be a central investigation by a central committee into the cost and profits of production and distribution of goods, also a local investigation by a committee subject to appeal to a tribunal into complaints of the general public concerning prices charged and profits made in the railway distribution of goods.

Local authorities have the option of establishing a local committee. All committees and tribunals established under the act will advise not to take action which will hamper or restrict legitimate commercial enterprise.

BUY AN IRRIGATED FARM

FROM THE CANADAN PACIFIC RAILWAY

BECAUSE:

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and in sures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longor an experiment, the years that it has been tried having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever in telligently applied.

You can buy irrigated land from the Canadian Pacific Railway at prices up to $50 per acre, with 20 years to pay and the privilege of a loan of $2,000 for improvements (6% interest): no principle after first payment until end of fourth year, reduced interest if settlement conditions are complied and no water rental for first year. Contract can be paid off before maturity if desired.

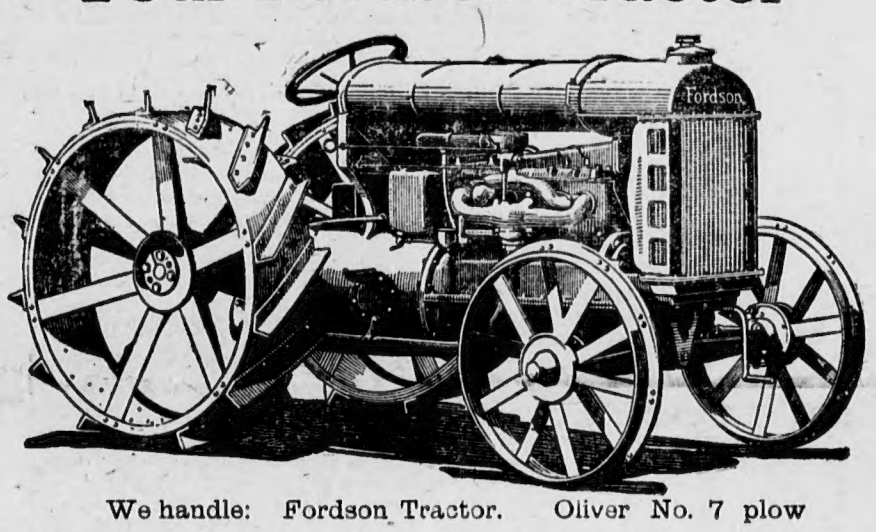

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record. For full particulars apply to

"VAUBAN"

Thoroughbred Stallion at Service

"Vauban" holds a certificate of soundness from the English Board of Agriculture, which states that he is sound and suitable for breeding purposes in every respect.

"Vauban" was a winner in England and with restricted chances, owing to the war has already sired winners of useful races in England.

His pedigree will stand the closest inspection and he is undoubtedly the best bred horse standing at stud in Alberta. He has been imported by me from England and will stand at my barn a half mile north and one half mile east of Cluny.

Service fees for Thoroughbred mares $75 and half-bred mares $25 for full season 1919. Subscriptions may now be booked for 1920. He will be restricted to 40 mares, including his owners. Already 23 outside subscriptions are booked to "Vauban" for 1920.

BABY COVERED WITH ECZEMA

When 4 Days Old. Cross and Cried. Cuticura Heals.

"My baby brother had eczema which began when he was about four days old. It came in little pimples and then a rash, and he was covered. He was so cross that he could not sleep, and he cried.

"This lasted about two months before we used Cuticura. It helped him, so we bought more, and he was all healed after we had used two cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment." (Signed) Miss Almeda Williams, Youngs Cove, N. B., May 22, 1918.

Use Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum for all toilet purposes.

For free sample each of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. A, Boston, U. S. A." Sold everywhere.

Stop Decrying The Farm

Confronted with the task of reorganizing Canada on a peace basis following the upheaval of the Great War, and faced with the necessity of discharging that task under entirely new conditions and with a new social order demanded by all, thinking men and women all over the Dominion are endeavoring to ascertain what is Canada's most pressing need and how that need can be supplied.

It seems to be fairly generally accepted that from a financial, economic and purely business standpoint the most pressing national need of this Dominion is that all men and women shall become imbued with the ambition to work as they have never worked before, and by their labor produce from the natural resources of this country the wealth which will enable Canada to meet its enormous war debt and heavy national obligations, and discharge the duties and responsibilities imposed upon it.

Opinion, however, is divided as to the policies to be inaugurated and the methods employed to bring about this development of our natural resources and consequent greater production of wealth. Consequent upon this division of opinion, many phases of the big problem have become political issues in a partizan sense, one party advocating one policy, another party upholding an entirely different policy and course of action. In regard to these aspects of this problem which have become subjects of political controversy it is not the function nor intention of the writer of this article to deal. We leave them to governments and politicians, and to the people who, by the exercise of their franchise, make or unmake governments and politicians.

In the final analysis, however, it is the farmers of Canada who must largely solve the problem which confronts Canada today. Farmers represent the greatest and the basic industry of Canada. As a class they constitute the largest group in our population. They are the largest primary producers of wealth in this Dominion. Unless agriculture succeeds, Canada cannot grow and prosper. These are self-evident facts. It is important, therefore, that the country should be impressed by them, and that all governments in Canada should govern themselves accordingly. The government that devotes itself most assiduously to the welfare and promotion of successful agriculture in Canada will prove to be the best government.

However, while governments can do much, and ought to do far more than they have done in the past to encourage and develop the business of farming, there are some things which the people, and more particularly the farmers, must do themselves. Some of these things were referred to by Hon. Duncan Marshall minister of agriculture for Alberta, in a recent speech which is deserving of the widest possible publicity.

First and foremost, declared Mr. Marshall, it is our duty to see to it that the farmers' sons and daughters throughout the entire Dominion are so effectively trained that they will be qualified to make he best farmers and farmers' wives that can be found anywhere in the civilized world. He arraigned Canadian governments for their failure to spread agricultural education throughout Canada. "Never in Canada's history," he said, was the need of agricultural education so serious. Never in public school did a teacher tell me it would be a fine thing to be a farmer. I never had a teacher say to me that it would be the finest and best ambition to settle down and endeavor to become the best cultivator of land and best live stock breeder in the county of Bruce. I am a big shorthorn breeder in Alberta in spit of the education I got in Ontario. In Belgium, the best draft horse breeding country in the world, I find in the school text books such lines as 'this horse is a good horse because his feet are sound,' and 'this horse is a strong horse because his back is short.' When I read that I understand why Belgium beats the world in horse breeding, and then I think of the stuff they told me about the cat and the rat and the hat and the mat."

Mr. Marshall continued: "We have got to teach the boys and girls in the public schools that the finest business in this world, the one that offers the biggest opportunity for home building and the greatest opportunity to become a useful citizen is that of tilling the soil on a good farm. We have got to get away from this business of belittling the farmer, and there have been many farmers engaged in running down their own business more than anybody else. They say that it is drudgery, and the ladies at times have said such things as, 'Poor girl, she married a farmer.' That is the kind of thing I want to get out of the minds of the sons and daughters of this Dominion of Canada."

And who will say Mr. Marshall is not right? One never hears of a lawyer, a doctor, or a manufacturer decrying his business, nor their wives and children so. On the contrary, they boast of their occupations as the best and finest in the world. We all need to stop decrying the farming business, and, on the other hand, to give Canadian boys and girls an inspiration to take up agriculture. The welfare of our people and our national stability depends upon it.

West Gains Many New Immigrants

Winnipeg.—Since the beginning of the year 15,434 settlers, bringing with them money and personal property valued at $8,577,893, have entered Western Canada. A large majority of the immigrants went to Saskatchewan and Alberta. Manitoba secured 2,061, western Ontario 429, Saskatchewan 5,026, Alberta 6,154, and British Columbia. Almost all the immigrants are farmers with their families. Many of them are taking homesteads, with some buying improved farms.

Wheat Price May Be Higher

H. W. Wood Says Deal on to Sell Part of Crops at $2.30

Calgary.—That Alberta farmers will receive at least the price they did last year for this season's wheat crop was the statement made by H. W. Wood, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, and member of the Canadian Grain Board.

"How much more than the $2.15 initial price are the farmers likely to receive?" he was asked.

"I do not know," replied Mr. Wood. "Last year the millers paid a fixed price of $2.24½ and a carrying charge of three cents, making the total figure $2.27½." The indications are, and in fact negotiations are now on for the sale of quite a quantity of this year's wheat at around $2.30. It is possible that the export demand will go somewhat higher in the future, and as the export price increases the price to the millers will be fixed on the same level."

Asked as to what the cost of the administration would be, Mr. Wood stated he did not know the exact figure, but it would be small, probably a fraction of a cent a bushel.

"How does the price compare with that of the United States wheat?" Mr. Wood was asked.

"Number 1 Northern minimum price at Duluth has been fixed at $2.22½," he replied.

Mr. Wood stated that the Canada Grain Board were again meeting the second Thursday in September.

Prince Is Modest

The Prince Of Wales Likes To Be Addressed As "Sir"

Those people who dread the epidemic of fawning and flattery which royal visits inevitably produces will be relieved to read this from a recent biographer of the Prince of Wales, which states:

"Modesty and simplicity are strong points in the Prince's make-up; he is in every way absolutely natural; and he likes others to be the same. He prefers to be addressed as 'Sir' rather than as 'your Royal Highness.'

"Happily the Prince is blessed with a strong sense of humor, which often enables him to see the funny side of such manifestations when they occur; nor does he lack a certain deftness in putting the fawning in their place. There is the incident of a well-known society woman, who has, let us say, at least no aversion to seeing her name in the papers; collecting the signed photographs of men in the limelight is one of her hobbies, and she wrote to the Prince of Wales at the time of his visit to Rome, saying that she considered his Italian journey made him the hero of the hour, and would he, etc.

"The letter took some time on its way and happened to reach the Prince during the period of the successful French counter-offensive on the Marne. He despatched by return a photograph of Marshal Foch!"

It Eases Pain.—Ask any druggist or dealer in medicines what is the most popular of the medicinal oils for pains in the joints, in the muscles or nerves, or for neuralgia and rheumatism, and he will tell you that Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is in greater demand than any other. The reason for this is that it possesses greater healing qualities than any other oil.

Inefficiency in U.S.

According to the Minneapolis Journal the United States Government spent one billion two hundred million dollars for aviation in the war—and laid down in Europe 213 airplanes. The Government spent four billion eight hundred million dollars for the Shipping Board. Yet it had to pay Great Britain handsomely for transporting 54 per cent. of the American soldiers across the sea. The government spent nearly one billion two hundred million dollars for artillery. Yet only 72 American-made guns were delivered to the firing line and 400 floated for France. For a nation of business efficiency experts, adds The Journal, we didn't organize our war-making very well, did we?

The increased consumption of tobacco due to the smoking of women has forced the largest tobacco concern in Great Britain to increase its capital for the purpose of expanding its business.

Canadian Soldiers Wanting Land

Approximately 6,500 Loans Granted Through the Board to Former Soldiers

Regina.—To the end of July, 25,000 applications had been made to the Soldiers' Settlement Board by returned soldiers wishing to go on the land, according to Col. R. Innes, director of the agricultural branch of the board's work, who paid an inspection visit here. Of these, 22,000 had been disposed of and 74 per cent. of the 22,000 actually had been approved. Approximately 6,500 loans had been granted through the board to former soldiers and 3,500 discharged men had been given free land grants. The total expenditures to July 31 amounted to $20,500,000 and the average loan was $3,100. There was no sign of falling off in the demand for loans, according to Colonel Innes, and settlement was well distributed throughout the entire country. At present there were 600 returned soldiers in the various training centres acquiring experience in farming before taking up land.

Increase in Soldier Settlers

Ottawa.—During the past four months there has been a big increase in the number of soldier settlers on Dominion lands. Under the soldier settlement legislation, 3,768 soldiers have been granted entries on land in the prairie provinces. By provinces the figures are: Alberta, 1,702; Saskatchewan, 1,124; Manitoba, 858; British Columbia, 84.

Rewards Totalling $130,000 Offered for Bandit's Capture

Galveston, Texas.—Governor Ortic Rubio, of the Mexican state of Michocan, has offered a reward of $50,000 gold for the body of Francisco Villa, dead or alive, according to a statement given out at the Mexican consul's office here. This reward is in addition to $25,000 gold offered by the governor of Chihuahua and $100,000 pesos (about $45,000) deposited at Chihuahua city by citizens of Chihuahua for the capture of the bandit.

Seven Whiskey Stills Raided

Saskatoon.—Seven illicit whiskey stills working overtime in the Canora, Sask., district east of here were raided by Inspector J. M. Danis, of the inland revenue department, R.N. W.M.P. and provincial officers. Eight men were arrested, and they paid fines totalling $1,870. The stills were ordered confiscated. This is the largest single round-up since Saskatchewan went dry.

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out threshing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Luminous Trail Marks

Luminous Ribbon Used for Marking Trails Through the Woods

Here is a war-time application of luminous paint that should be useful in summer camps, on the routes of boy scouts, in peace-time manoeuvres of citizen soldiers, in marking the landing places of aircraft, etc.

The British army had discs or buttons two or three inches in diameter, coated with luminous paint and having a sharp spike on the under side. These were stuck upon the sides of trenches, buildings, fences, etc., or were swung by hand to give signals in the well-known code, where bright lights were dangerous or where silence was imperative.

The luminous discs were visible from 30 to 60 feet, so they formed valuable landmarks. Luminous ribbon also was used for marking trails through the woods, and luminous patches were attached to the backs of stretcher-bearers to prevent them from being fired upon by their own troops.

It has been suggested that the names and numbers of city streets might well be marked with this luminous paint.

Wants Allied Intervention

British Withdrawal From North Russia Means German Domination There

Copenhagen:—Unless something is done to remove the fear and prejudice with which they are now regarded even by bourgeoise, there is little chance for the ultimate success of Admiral Kolchak and General Denikine against the Russian Bolsheviki, said Dr. Camillo Martiny, who has arrived here from Russia after a four years' stay there as the head of the Danish Red Cross.

The bourgeoise desire allied intervention. The British withdrawal from north Russia means eventually German domination there, especially since Germany has lost her overseas colonies and the only road left her is eastward.

Big Expenditure at North Battleford

One hundred thousand dollars is the estimated cost of the new buildings being constructed by the Canadian National railways at North Battleford. The new works include a 15-stall roundhouse, a new machine shop, 86 by 40 feet, a new compressed air driven turntable, and a complete new equipment for the machine shop. The new roundhouse is being built in the rear of the existing one, and is half as big again as the present structure. Some idea of the amount of concrete called for in the specifications can be gathered from the fact that over 4,000 barrels of cement will be used.

New Government In N.W. Russia

Declares Its Decision to Carry on War Against Bolshevism

London.—Reuter learns that the newly established northwest Russian government will shortly issue a declaration of its policy containing the following principles:

The government will be formed in agreement with the views of representatives of the allies, and will be united with the government of Kolchak. It declares its decision to carry on war against Bolshevism. Complete equality is granted to all citizens with civil liberties guaranteed. The new constituent assembly is to be convoked immediately. Different nationalities are to form part of the united Russia on a federative or autonomous basis. The administrations of lemstvos and municipalities are to be organized on democratic principles. The agrarian question is to be solved by the constituents; until then the land is to remain in the hands of the rural population. An eight-hour working day is to be introduced by the new government.

Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, which positively does drive away the attacks.

Livestock Industry in North

Some idea of the extent of the livestock industry in the Battleford district can be gained from the fact that 120 cars of stock have received official certificates for shipment since July 1. A considerable portion of the shipments was from the Turtleford branch, along which thousands of cattle are being fattened upon the prairie grasses. It should be understood that this shipment represents fat stock and cattle have not been rushed to market in an unfinished condition because of shortness of feed, which is responsible for heavy shipments in some dry areas.

10,000 Yet To Come

Difficult to Say When Rest of C.E.F. Will Get Home

Ottawa.—It is difficult to state just how long it will take to bring home the balance of the Canadian Expeditionary Force now in England. Late reports received at the Militia Department place the number of men to be brought over at about 10,000. This number may have been decreased by sailings taking place within the past couple of days. The movement of these men is somewhat delayed by the fact that most of them have dependents, and that accommodation boats have to be provided for women and children. If boats are available the remainder of Canada's army should reach home shores within a comparatively short time.

A MOTHER'S TRIALS

Care of Home and Children Often Causes a Breakdown

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and severe. Her own health trials and her children's welfare exact heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her constitution. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women have grown to accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and the cure at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill, she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother more than any other woman in the world needs rich blood and plenty of it. There is one always unfailing way to get this good blood so necessary to perfect health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills make new blood abundantly, and through their use thousands of weak, ailing wives and mothers have been made bright, cheerful and strong. If you are ailing, easily tired, or depressed, it is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. What this medicine has done for others it will surely do for you.

Cossack Forces Break Through Red Army

London. — The Cossacks, under General Kamontov, who succeeded in breaking through the Red army, captured 13,000 Bolsheviki and dispersed 20,000 mobilized but untrained men. A dispatch has been received to this effect from Kamontov, which refutes the Bolshevik claim that his communications have been cut.

A Red regiment, with 40 officers, deserted to Kamontov, who is forming a division made up of former Bolsheviks. He has evacuated Tambov and is proceeding northwest towards Koslov, headquarters of the Bolshevik southern front.

Gen. Denikine's advance is continuing; he is now within 12 miles of Kiev and 12 miles from Petlura's forces. If a junction occurs, the entire old Bolshevik forces remaining in the pocket 250 miles deep on a 50-mile width to the south of Kiev will be cut off.

To the northeast Gen. Denikine has captured the important railway junction of Bakhmacs, 20 miles northwest of Konotop. Denikine's cavalry and armored trains are leading the advance and are not meeting with any opposition along the whole western front. The Bolsheviki, however, are massing on his centre and right, having captured Volchansk, Valuika and Buturlinovka. The plan of Gen. Denikine is to clear the left flank, preparatory to a general advance.

The Bolsheviki claim of the capture of Pskov, southwest of Petrograd, is probably correct. Further to the south the Poles are advancing on Dvinsk and to the eastward have forced the Bolshevik back to the Dvina near Polotska, imperilling their line. South of the Pripet marshes the Poles have been checked on the line of the Sluch river. Heavy fighting is going on at Novgorod Vilnsk. Further eastward the Bolshevik have retaken Jitomira. The success has been counter-balanced by the capture of Fastov by the Ukrainians.

Wanted Dangerous Correspondence Destroyed

Basle.—Rumanian military authorities have discovered in the archives of the Hungarian foreign ministry a telegram from Otto Bauer, former Austrian state secretary, entrusted with the management of the state bureau of foreign affairs of Bela Kun, former head of the Hungarian communist government, asking him to destroy all documents relative to the delivery of arms by Austria to Hungary, according to a Budapest dispatch received here.

Three Men Burn to Death

Boise, Idaho.—Three men were burned to death in a forest fire raging near Burgdorff, north of Lake Port. They were part of a crew of 200 which turned out to save the village of Gurgdorff. Heavy winds swept the flames through the forest and cut the three men off from the crew. The fire is the largest of the season in southern Idaho, having spread over more than 40,000 acres since it started.

Stop Work On Warships

Step May Involve Loss of Some 25 Million Pounds

London.—All private shipbuilding yards throughout the country, numbering about twenty, are affected by the government order that all work be stopped on warships except those about to be launched.

The Admiralty yards at Chatham, Devonport and Portsmouth will not stop, however, as they are entirely occupied with the refitting of 2,700 steamers which are about to be returned to the owners from whom they were requisitioned for war service. Among the warships being built at private yards are cruisers, destroyers and submarines, and the work on some of these may be continued, according to the Mail, if it is found cheaper to complete them than to break them up.

Shipbuilders must be liberally compensated in cases where contracts are broken, but although several million pounds sterling may be involved, it may prove more economical than carrying out the building program.

The Mail quotes an officer of the Admiralty as saying that one sound reason for stopping work on warships is that the step will clear the yards for commercial building. There is an excellent demand for new tonnage, and this work will probably absorb the men liberated by the stoppage of work on naval vessels. According to the Glasgow Daily Record, work on 40 warships valued at $125,000,000 has been stopped.

Abdicated Ruler Sues for Estate.

Berlin.—Former Duke Charles Edward of Coburg-Gotha has filed a suit against the republic of Gotha and its commissioners to recover his estate, which was confiscated when he declined to accept a settlement of 15,000,000 marks.

The Prince of Waldeck-Pyrmont is also suing for the recovery of half of his domain after the failure of negotiations with the new government.

Sending Families to Switzerland

Geneva.—Swiss newspapers state that nearly all the Bolshevist leaders in Russia and Hungary, and even in Germany, have sent their wives and relatives to Switzerland lately for safety, thereby condemning their own regime of terror.

The women were supplied with false passports, chiefly Czecho-Slovak, and false names. The Swiss authorities have discovered this trickery and are applying stricter measures on examination.

Warning Against Hoarding Sugar

Toronto.—With reference to an Ottawa dispatch of August 23, stating that the wholesale grocers, in their convention at Ottawa, had predicted that sugar would rise to 20 cents a pound before the present shortage would be relieved, Hugh Blain, president of the Wholesale Grocers' association of Canada, said:

"There must be some mistake about this, as no discussion took place at the convention as to what the price of sugar was likely to be. It was, however, stated to the convention that speculators in the United States had bought fifty cars of granulated sugar, held in Halifax, at the regular Canadian price, but it had been resold to other speculators in the United States and was now offered at $13.90 at Halifax to the Dominion government, and I believe a few cars were bought at this price. The convention generally felt that to buy sugar at such a figure might have the effect of creating an advance on all sugars, which would be most unfortunate.

"It was also felt that selling this sugar would have the appearance of profiteering, even if sold again at cost, because sugar is sold today in Montreal to the wholesale trade at $10.40 and $10.50, with the usual discount off, and is resold to the retail trade at these figures, with the freight added. The shortage in sugar has been caused entirely through the lack of shipping facilities, owing to the marine strike, which prevented refiners from getting raw sugar, and if shipping facilities can be restored to normal conditions without further delay, we should get supplies of refined sugar to meet our requirements within the next 30 or 60 days.

"I would like to warn the public against buying sugar beyond their pressing requirements, because hoarding sugar is certainly going to increase the price to the consumers, who will be in want, besides depriving the rest of the public from getting their fair share of what sugar is to be had. Every wholesale and retail grocer should furnish their customers with the smallest quantity of sugar they can get along with until sugar becomes more plentiful."

California Transportation Is Paralyzed

Workers Disregard Orders of Their Union Leaders and Quit Work

San Francisco, Cal. — Although both government and railroad brotherhood officials were straining to prevent its spread, a strike of yard and switchmen and allied crafts has paralyzed steam rail transportation in southern and central California. The men, who went on strike as individuals and without a formally announced reason, defied definite orders of their union officials to return. In southern California telegraphic instructions were received from Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, for the men of that craft to resume their posts. The men had the instructions under consideration.

Railroad officials said it was the worst strike in the history of the state. Throughout the day a scant half dozen or more trains moved from here for southern and eastern points, but one transcontinental train, the Pacific Limited of the Southern Pacific company, leaving the Oakland mole, the transcontinental terminus for the southern and western Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads.

Benefits Of Prohibition

Figures From Six Cities Since U.S. Went Dry Show Arrests Decreasing

Boston, Mass.—Official reports of arrests for drunkenness in six of the larger cities of the state for the first month of prohibition, Edward C. R. Bagley, state director of prisons, said, indicated that these arrests in the future would be so few as to constitute a negligible quantity in sending persons to jails and correctional institutions. The six cities, which included Worcester and Holyoke, Dr. Bagley said, represented a total of arrests for July of 329, as compared with 975 for June. The reports for August would show a considerably further decrease, he said.

Rich Gold Strike

Rush of Prospectors and Miners to Copper Lake District

The Pas, Man.—Details of the gold discovery made at Copper Lake by J. P. Gordon, show that he uncovered a vein six feet wide with a four-inch streak of quartz and gold with a determined volume of 50 per cent.

Gold samples have arrived here containing wire, leaf and nugget gold. In one sample the wire gold was holding the quartz together. Commissioner Wallace has issued a statement saying that no similar rich discovery has ever come under his notice. Gordon says that he sunk a test pit three feet down and the yellow metal was seen down the side of one wall and freely upon the bottom. The formation surrounding the discovery is a granite schist located in a small basin of Copper Lake.

A rush of prospectors and mining men has taken place and the town is emptied of every available man.

Taking of Petrograd Doubtful

London.—The reported impending attempt to take Petrograd from the Bolsheviki is not likely to materialize, according to the Daily Mail's Helsingfors correspondent. Such an operation, he points out, must be by land, and the only available forces consist of Finns, Russians and Esthonians. It is very doubtful, however, in the opinion of the correspondent, if Finland's help could be obtained, since the Socialist victory in the presidential election defeated General Mannerheim, who alone was capable of leading an expedition.

Scheme to Liquidate Enemy Debts

London.—It has been decided that the board of trade shall be the department to be entrusted with the huge task of the liquidation of enemy debts. A scheme is now being prepared to enable the board to discharge this heavy responsibility.

Millions are involved, and it is thought that the work will last at least for three years. It is intended to set up a separate department for the purpose, and it is expected that some prominent banker or commercial magnate will be placed at its head.

Withdraw From One Big Union

Vancouver.—The Vancouver postal workers have withdrawn from the Vancouver trades and labor council (One Big Union). The vote of a referendum that has been in progress for the past two weeks was counted here. The result was given as 314 in favor of withdrawing and 90 against.

There are approximately 400 members of the Postal Workers' Association in Vancouver.

Death Of General Louis Botha

Famous War Statesman Succumbs to Attack of Influenza

Pretoria, Union of South Africa.—General Louis Botha, Premier and Minister of Agriculture of the Union of South Africa, died suddenly following an attack of influenza.

Louis Botha was born at Greytown, Natal, in 1863, and was a member of the first Volksraad of Transvaal, in which he represented the district of Vryheid. At the beginning of the Boer war in 1899 he was Veldt Cornet for that district. Joining the Boer forces in Northern Natal, he soon rose to high command. He was in charge of the Boer forces at the battles of Colenso and Spion Kop, and, following the death of General P. J. Joubert, he was made commander-in-chief of the Transvaal forces. After the fall of Pretoria, he reorganized the Boers with a view to prolonged guerilla warfare, his forces offering steady resistance to the British up till late in 1901.

Following the peace negotiations between the Boers and the British, General Botha took a leading role in the period of reconstruction. After the grant of self-government to the Transvaal in 1907, General Botha was called upon to form a government. At the outbreak of the great war in 1914 General Botha took command of the Union forces in Southwest Africa, achieving a complete success and compelling the German troops in that region to surrender.

With General Jan Christian Smuts, General Botha signed the peace treaty with Germany on behalf of the Union of South Africa, June 28 last. He arrived at Capetown from Europe on July 28.

Price Of Pork Goes Down

Hogs at $15 a Hundred Pounds Make Appearance Once More

Chicago.—The $15 hog, $1.50 nearer the slender purse of the high cost of living victim, has made its appearance in the Chicago stockyards.

His advent was immediately followed by a slump in provisions and grain, as well as live cattle and sheep. Meat products on the board of trade increased sharply in price, but the declines were not evident in the retail market.

Corn and oats felt the effect of hog and provisions decline, but butter, eggs and poultry in large or small amounts were unaffected by the stockyards drop.

A continuance of the decline in live hog prices was looked for by traders, who pointed out that 13,000 of the 23,000 animals received in the stockyards were unsold and that 15,000 more were expected to arrive before the opening. Cattle of the higher grades were 25 cents less per hundredweight and sheep and lambs were fully fifty cents cheaper.

The drop in hog prices was the greatest since 1907, and traders who look for still lower figures pointed out that eastern storage houses are believed to be already crowded with meat products, leaving only a domestic outlet.

Hindenburg For President

National Liberals Are Booming Militarist Head as President at Next Election

Berlin.—The National Liberals are booming Field Marshal von Hindenburg for the presidency in the first election to be held under the new constitution.

The directorate of the party urges the obliteration of party lines in the initial election for president of the new republic and calls on the voters to rally around the man whose name has been an epitome of faithful service to the country in war, in victory and in the hour of need.

Denies Report

That Great Britain Is Seeking Railway Concession Through Esthonia

Copenhagen.—The Esthonian press bureau officially denies the report recently printed by the National Tidende that Great Britain is seeking a railway concession through Esthonia to Russia, or that negotiations are under way for the lease of the islands of Dago and Oesel.

The National Tidende declared that negotiations were proceeding for the lease of Dago and Oesel, in the Baltic Sea, to England for the construction of a commercial port. The paper also states that England was seeking a railway concession through Esthonia to reach the Russian market.

While in the act of securing a black eye a man is apt to see a lot of stars that are unknown to astronomers.

Cannot Rely On States

Sir Auckland Geddes Says Europe Must Work Independently

London.—Sir Auckland Geddes, Minister of National Service and Reconstruction, speaking at Basingstoke on government economy, said that a special financial committee, of which Premier Lloyd George is chairman, has been formed for that purpose and that the Premier was throwing himself with great energy into the work of cutting down expenditure.

Sir Auckland said that it was useless to rely on the United States to pull the [illegible] people through their difficulties. The United States had her own trade difficulties. She had increased the industrialism of her population and was not only a great exporter of manufactures, but the greatest exporter of raw materials.

She was in the unhappy position of possessing so much that there was little she wanted, and, as a result, exchange between New York and London moved in her favor and, therefore, against her power to export. Moreover, because Britain required United States raw material, he said, it was increasingly difficult for the United States to get her manufactures across the Atlantic. The only result of United States flooding Europe with goods would be a movement of exchange in her favor, making the price of United States goods in this country prohibitive. Europe must, therefore, work out her own salvation, he declared.

Admit Loss Of Odessa

Reds Could Not Stand Bombardment in Black Sea

London.—Occupation of Odessa, chief Russian port on the Black Sea, by allied forces is admitted in a Bolshevik government wireless message from Moscow received here. The occupation was effected, the dispatch states, after thirty vessels had bombarded the city for two days.

On the Russian northwestern front, according to the soviet statement, the Bolshevik troops are advancing in the region of Pksov, having progressed already to within three and one-half miles of that city.

Shortly after the Bolshevik message was received, confirmation was given in official quarters here of the occupation of Odessa. A Russian volunteer army, it is stated, had occupied the city. The Bolsheviki retired in the direction of Balta, 120 miles northwest of Odessa.

Munition Ship Blown Up

Crew Succeeded in Escaping in One of the Boats

Yarmouth, N.S. — Twelve men, members of the crew of the Texas auxiliary four-masted schooner Elmer Roberts, Captain Jorgenson, arrived here reporting that their ship, loaded with ammunition, caught fire and blew up at sea. The schooner was on a voyage from Bordeaux to New York with a full cargo of ammunition. At midnight a lamp exploded in the ship's engine room. The flames spread with such rapidity that the crew barely succeeded in escaping in one of the boats, losing all their effects, when the vessel blew up. Two days later they fell in with the schooner Roseway, of Yarmouth.

Criticizes U.S. Interference

Paris.—French officials are much exercised over a warning to Turkey that massacres of Armenians must cease, which the United States is alleged to have acted alone in sending to the Turkish government.

The subject has been under discussion in the supreme council, in which it is reported that there was sharp criticism of United States interference in Turkey through missions and otherwise, despite the fact that the United States has shown no disposition to accept a mandate for the administration of any Turkish territory.

The Bremen Not Captured

London.—There is no truth in the report that the German submarine Bremen was captured during the war and returned recently to Germany, according to official information given out here. It was added that the British Admiralty had no knowledge concerning the fate of the Bremen, but that it is assumed the submarine foundered while endeavoring to cross the Atlantic.

600 Huns Deported

Sydney, N.S.W.—Following out the announced policy of the government, 600 more Germans have been deported. They include several well-known buyers.

Martial Law in Hungary

Paris.—Martial law, which was proclaimed in Budapest a few days ago, has been extended to the whole of Hungary, says a Havas dispatch from Budapest.

Avert Strike Only By Lower Prices

Revolt Breaks Out In Montenegro

Serbians Using Strong Measures to Suppress Uprising

London.—Fighting has broken out everywhere in Montenegro, and the whole country is in a state of revolt, according to news received here. The situation is extremely serious, and the Serbians are using strong measures in an attempt to suppress the uprising.

"We seem to be in for a recrudescence of the Balkan trouble," was a statement made to the Associated Press from an authoritative source.

The Montenegrins have cut the railway between Virpazar and Antivari, on the coast.

The Serbians are receiving reinforcements, but are not meeting with success in their efforts to put down the revolutionary movement, according to the advices, which represent the Montenegrin national spirit as thoroughly aroused and the animosity of the people against the Serbians increasing.

German Ambassadors Chosen

Dr. Solf Will Represent Germany in Great Britain

Berlin.—Dr. Haniel von Haimhausen, former counsellor of the German embassy at Washington, has been selected for appointment as German ambassador to the United States, according to authoritative information.

Dr. W. S. Solf, the secretary for the colonies, is the selection for ambassadorship to Great Britain, and Herr Badowitz, former under-secretary of state, for the ambassadorship to China.

Fritz August Thiel, former German consular representative in Japan, has been picked for the post of ambassador at Tokio.

The appointments of the men selected for ambassadorships, it is stated, depend upon the attitude of the powers in question. If they send charge d'affaires to Berlin, Germany will take like action as to representation in the capitals of such powers.

There is no mention at present of the selection of a German ambassador to France.

Washington.—No inquiry has been made of the United States as to whether Von Haimhauser, former counsellor of the imperial German embassy here, would be acceptable as ambassador, but there is every indication that this government will not receive Haimhausen or anyone else formerly connected with the embassy under the regime of Count von Bernstorff.

Sympathy Strike Threatens Paris

Paris.—Paris is threatened with a theatrical strike similar to that in progress in New York unless the theatre managers grant demands of the federation of theatrical employees contained in an ultimatum which expires September 1.

The managers say that if the federation calls a strike they will proclaim a lockout and install moving pictures in their theatres.

Washington.—Industrial peace in the United States depends on the results the government can show in the next ninety days in its campaign to reduce the cost of living.

That time limit was tacitly set by the executive council of the railroad shopmen in suggesting to union locals throughout the country that President Wilson's compromise offer in response to their demands for higher wages should be accepted, pending the outcome of their efforts to restore a normal price level.

If the cost of living does not come down the 500,000 members of the shop crafts would reserve the right to strike for more money, and with them probably would be associated the remainder of the 2,500,000 railroad employees, all of whom have been considering the same problem. The letter of the executive council served to compose somewhat the uneasiness felt in official circles over the immediate labor situation and to focus attention on the legal measures being directed by Attorney-General Palmer, and his assistant, Judge Ames, to take the inflation out of prices by punishing hoarders and profiteers.

"In our opinion," the letter said, "the next 90 days will bring the entire situation to a head, and if a strike is to take place, every class of railroad employees should be willing to join in the movement, share their full measure of responsibility and not leave the issue to be decided by the 22 per cent. of the railroad employees represented by the federated trades."

Apprehension was evident, however, both in the letter and in the conversation of the international officers, that the men migh not be willing to accept the suggestion that the question of a strike be left in the hands of the executive council and a suspension of work to be ordered only after a "reasonable time" had made it clear that such a step was necessary to afford relief. The letter said the proposal was certain to draw criticism from individuals "who have not as yet indicated a desire to listen to reason" and that it was conceivable some men would want to rush into a strike now. Officers of the unions declined to hazard a guess whether the advice would prevail, but hoped that the more moderate element would dominate the deliberations.

Tax Germans Who Did Not Fight

Berlin.—As a result of the government's search for new sources of revenue, the feasibility of assessing men who escaped active service during the war has been suggested.

It is estimated that six million men never wore uniforms, and that if an "exemption tax" averaging twenty marks per man were levied the yield would be 120,000,000 marks.

Miners Relax Claims

Sydney, N.S.—The United Mine Workers' Convention, in session here, decided not to press for a five-day week at this time.

A resolution adopted denounced the housing conditions in some of the mining districts.

U. S. Government Forces Prices Down

Navy Must Remain At Present Strength

Reduction in Naval Expenditure of Great Britain Impossible

London.—A cable to the Times from Wellington, N.Z., states that in replying to a deputation of the Navy League, Admiral Sir John Jellicoe stated that any great reduction in the naval expenditure of Great Britain will be impossible and it is likely to remain at about a pound per head.

New Zealand, if it desired to do its share in maintaining the navy, should also contribute a pound per head, either in cash or as a New Zealand unit, manned and trained in complete uniformity with the imperial fleet and in no way tied merely to the shores of New Zealand.

Will Release Prisoners

Paris.—An agreement has been reached between the French, British and United States by which the German prisoners held by the British and Americans may be released immediately.

Washington.—Prices are beginning to turn downward in various parts of the country, but the slump has not yet gathered momentum sufficient to affect purchases being made for immediate use, according to reports to the department of justice.

Attorney-General Palmer, asked how soon results could be expected from the campaign to reduce the cost of living, the outcome of which railroad employees have been requested to await before pressing demands for wage increases, said all the government wanted was a fair chance to show what could be done to take the artificial inflation out of the market. He said officials were well pleased with the success so far attained and that cumulative results were expected when congress enacts amendments to the food control law by which criminal penalties can be imposed on profiteers and hoarders.

"We hope the public will begin to reap the benefit of our efforts before long," Mr. Palmer said. "For instance, we are making progress in obtaining promises from shoe manufacturers as to fixing a limit beyond which prices shall not go."

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Now for the 1919 Victory Loan.

Remember the Queenstown U. F. A. dance and box social in the Milo hall Friday night.

Keith Pinder suffered a very serious hemorrhage early on Sunday morning and his many friends will be glad to know he is now improving nicely.

W. F. Ferguson underwent a very serious operation in a Calgary hospital over a week ago and for some days it was feared he might not recover. However, the latest reports state he is improving nicely.

The Paper Control Tribunal has reduced the price of newspaper by $7 per ton, but on top of this the wholesalers announce a raise of two cents a pound on all linen paper. The joy of being a printer?

Rev. Mr. Mathewson, wife and family returned last Friday from their month's vacation at Gull Lake, having spent a most enjoyable outing. They report experiencing practically no trouble with their car on the long journey.

Lieut. H. E. James returned on Friday last from overseas and is being welcomed home by his hundreds of friends. "Bert" went off to war with the Highlanders and returns without a scratch and in health looks better than ever.

The many friends of J. C. Morton will be pleased to learn he is now rapidly recovering from his recent operations in a Calgary hospital. For a time it was feared he might not recover, but Jack is not the man to give up by any means.

The first Gleichen G. W. V. A. dance was given in the Opera House Monday night and proved a grand success in every particular. The soldiers boys proved their ability as first-class entertainers and it is hoped that it will not be long ere the boys announce another good time. At the present the exact financial report is not complete, but everyone will be pleased to know the balance will show up well on the right side.

Capt. Grant of Craigantler has presented The Call with a sack of the finest potatoes we ever tasted. There were five different varieties and all fine large specimens. He is not only a very efficient water master, but by practical demonstration proves beyond doubt the great advantages of irrigation. As far as the eye can reach from his happy home great fields of waving grain waiting for the binder or stoked can be seen, and 40 to 50 bushels to the acre is the estimate of the farmers in that vicinity, while a few are already realizing it by threshing. We are glad to know the genial captain is prospering as he is a hard working man, ever obliging and a heart as big as all outdoors.

LOST—Large five-o'clock tea cloth at Gleichen Fair. Return to Mrs. J. A. McArthur.

$20 REWARD—For information leading to the recovery of 4 horses, strayed or driven from the range 6 miles north of Gleichen. 1 white gelding weight 1200 lbs. branded 88 on right shoulder. 1 white gelding 23 branded, weight 1200 lbs. 1 bay gelding, weight 1400 lbs., mane cut off, collar mark on shoulders, crooked on forelegs,—brand not known. 1 bay gelding, weight 1000 lbs. branded JB on left hip, mane cut off. Notify T. R. Burne, P. O. box 147, Gleichen. 26
